Movement training for science communicators:

- Preparing the body for performance
- Channelling nervous energy and relaxation techniques
- Seeing & being seen on stage
- Dealing with distractions.
- Punctuating with gesture

"It gave me tools to put into practice to help with how I carry myself on stage/in front of a lecture theatre."

*Microsoft Research PhD Candidate, Smith Lab
Welcome Trust-MRC Cambridge Stem Cell Institute*

"I really enjoyed the workshop and took a lot home from it. It has already helped me to perform better and I still have things which I know I need to implement."

Comedian & producer of science podcast, Level Up Human Senior studio director for BBC Radio 4.

How to Book?

Our training can be offered as a CPD day, or on an individual basis. We have a range of options to suit your needs:

1. Flux can visit your workplace or university and offer the training to a group.

This can be a cost effective way of training larger groups of colleagues who all manage individual projects and/or to encourage new researchers to engage with creative science communication. Prices start from £15 pp.

2. One to One Intensive training at our studio / your workplace.

If you have a performance or set that you would like to work on a more individual basis. Maybe the set depends on a lot of movement / gesture, or you particularly struggle with nerves. We can arrange a 1:1 intensive with one of our team at our studios or at your workplace. Prices start from £70 per hour.

3. Book onto one of our in-house workshops.

Throughout the year FLUX will host regular training for at our London Studios. You can book on an individual basis one a full day or half day training course. Prices start from £20 pp.

Please contact us for more information.
